- On the 22nd of May 2016, the ministry of foreign affairs refused to renew the annual stay permit for the Head of Office of the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (UNOCHA), Mr. Ivo Freijsen, without providing official explanation to its decision, the stay permit of Mr. Ivo Freijsen will expire on 6 June 2016, however on the 25th of May, the Sudanese Foreign Minister, Ibrahim Ghandour, stated during a weekly forum organized by the ministry of information, that the government of Sudan will not renew the annual stay permit of the Head of Office of the United Nations for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs because of his failure to cooperate with the Humanitarian Aid Commission, after receiving reports that the UN official continued to provide incorrect reports about Sudan, particularly the statistics on refugees, in addition to that, he included in his last report that Sudan is witnessing famine. He added that the UN official is distorting Sudan’s image, and it is the right of Sudan’s government not to give him a stay permit.

- On the 17th of May 2016, the political committee of the ruling party (the NCP) in the parliament announced that the NCP party will submit a new bill to the parliament to ban the political activities of armed group supporters inside universities.

- On the 16th of May 2016, bloody clashes erupted between two Islamic student groups affiliated with the National Congress Party (NCP) and the opposition Popular Congress Party (PCP) at the Holy Quran University in Khartoum over students elections and they led to serious injuries of around 25 students as reported, the violent clashes between the two groups have continued for the next day on 17 May 2016, whereas the police forces intervened and dispersed the students using tear gas. Huqooq team was unable to obtain information about the names of those injured during the clashes. Although the team has contacted three students loyal to the PCP in order to obtain more information and the names of the injured students.

- On the 16th of May 2016, the defense team of the detained, dismissed and suspended students from the University of Khartoum, has submitted a petition to the Director of the university of Khartoum requesting him to cancel the dismissal and suspension decision issued against a number of university of Khartoum students on the ground of protests that have recently erupted at the University against the selling and moving of the university buildings last April. Meanwhile the administration has issued another decision of dismissal from study against the student Moafag Ibrahim Mohamed 5th year in the faculty of Engineering with effect from 16 of May 2016, the decision was based on the student’s code of conduct and accountability and university guards reports on the protests that erupted in the University of Khartoum last April.

- On the 15th of May 2016, the committee tasked with reforming the 2009 press and publications law headed by Sudan’s Justice Minister, Awad Al-Hassan Al-Nur in Khartoum has convened its first meeting, it is worth noting that in late 2015, the minister of justice has established a law review committee to review number of legislations among these laws the national intelligence and security law of 2010, the criminal law of 1991, the criminal procedures law of 1991 and another 83 laws, chaired by former chief Justice Dafa Alallh Alhaj Yousif, however up to date, the discussion on these laws has not been made public and neither the composition of the committee was participatory, in contrary to the formation of the new law review committee. In January 2016, the parliament has passed new amendments to the criminal law of 1991, which carried very harsh punishments in relation to offences of criminal mischief namely article 182 -2 which states "whoever commits an offense of criminal mischief shall be punished with imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years or a fine or with both,
